

DRAW THE LINES, MAKE THE RULES

BOOK SIGNING & PRESENTATION with Author David Daley Wednesday, June 12th – 6:30PM

When Barack Obama won the presidency in 2008, Democrats thought changing demographics would make them a majority party for a decade. It didn't work out that way -- because Republicans realized the 2010 election mattered more. They focused down-ballot, on state legislative races in swing states, so that they could control redistricting. The brilliant plan worked -- and has changed our politics forever. Citizens have battled back nationwide, frustrated by abuses of this process by both parties. This spring, the U.S. Supreme Court will decide. Where does the battle for fair maps go from here?

David Daley, of Haydenville, is the author of "Ratfked: Why Your Vote Doesn't Count" and the forthcoming "Unrigged: How Americans Fought Back, Slayed the Gerrymander and Reinvented Democracy." His work on voting rights has appeared in the New Yorker, the Atlantic, and the Washington Post. He is the former editor-in-chief of Salon.
